Your Corgi Toys are made at the huge twin factories of Playcraft Toys Ltd. and the Mettoy Co. Ltd., which are situated in Swansea, South Wales. The manufacture of Corgi models is carried out under the experienced eyes of the most skilful engineers in die-cast modelling—your models receive the same precise care and attention to detail which is found in a real car factory, and go through many of the processes used in the production of actual cars. Illustrated on this page are just a few of the exciting features which appear in Corgi Toys, many of them having been first introduced by Corgi.

238 JAGUAR MK. 10 SALOON

6/11

A model of models. A thoroughbred of miniatures. A Corgi model. It is loaded with features and captures all the graceful power of the original with its long flowing lines. There's an entirely new 'first' in the boot—luggage you can take out and open. Press the front of the bonnet down and the bonnet opens to reveal a detailed engine. Note the twin-jewelled head lights that sparkle diamond bright. Test the Glidamatic spring suspension. And as always, this Corgi model has seats, steering wheel and windows.

Length $4\frac{1}{4}$ inches 108 mm

Length $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches 114 mm
The model uses either Vidor V0028 or Ever Ready U.12 batteries or the equivalent.

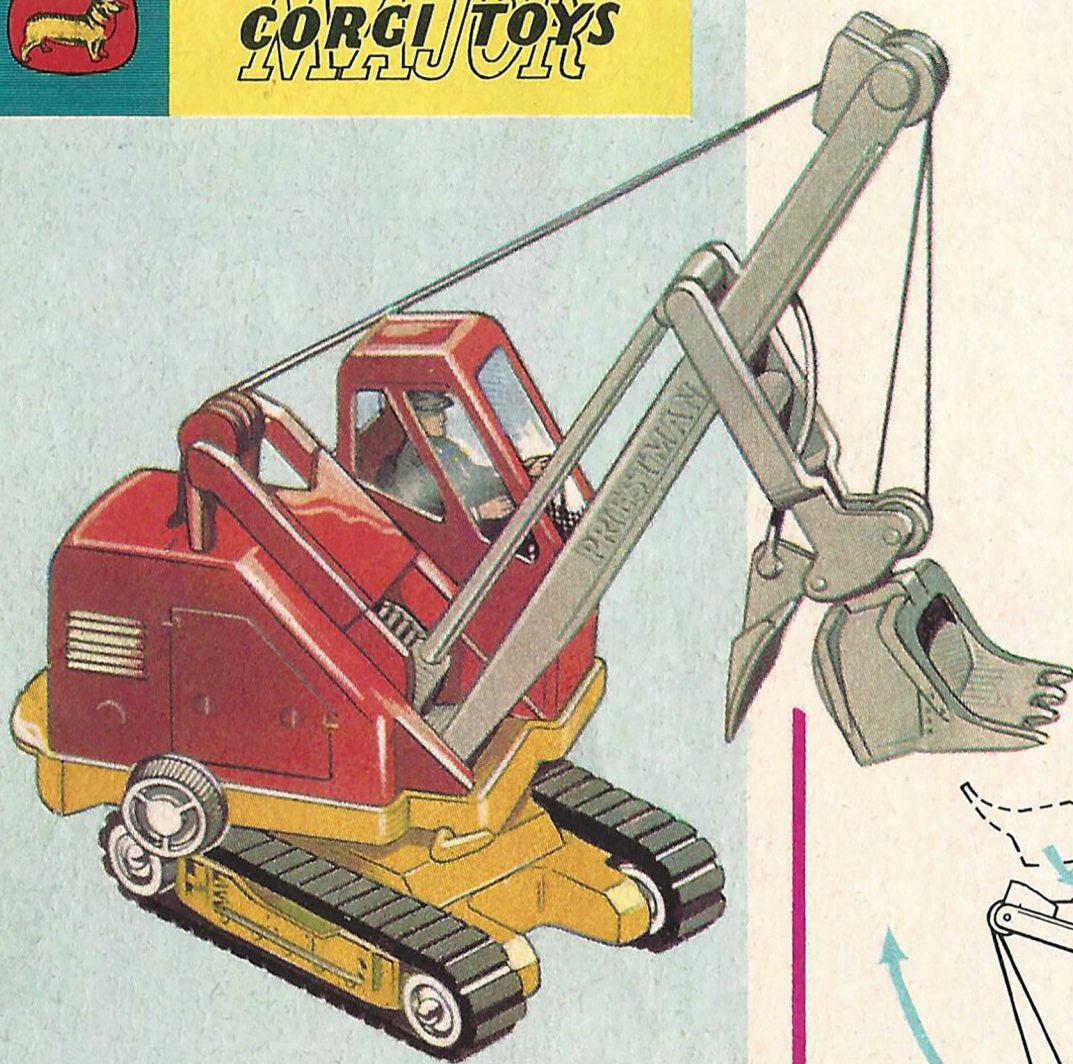

This Corgi model has another 'first'—FIVE battery-operated flashing lights! But as only one bulb illuminates all lights, the battery lasts for ages. Changing battery or bulb takes only seconds. All you have to do is unclip the power-pack, lift out bulb or battery, put new one in, clip power-pack into place. And once in it stays there! The model has a cut-out switch so you can stop the lights flashing when you like, to avoid battery wastage. No other model has such a simple power-pack system. The model also has windows, seats, steering wheel and Glidamatic spring suspension.
